Teatr Narodowy, Pl. Teatralny 3, 00-77 Warszawa in performing the obligations envisaged in Art. 173 of the Telecommunications Act of 16 July 2004 (Journal of Laws No. 171, item. 1800, as amended) provides the following information on the use of cookies by Teatr Narodowy.

Teatr Narodowy declares that it uses cookies on its website - www.narodowy.pl/en ("Website"). Cookies are computer files that are stored on the device of a visitor/user of a particular website, including the Website held by Teatr Narodowy. Cookies are stored on the user's device through a web browser during the first visit to the website. With the cookies stored in the memory of the user's device, whenever the user connects to a particular website, the website checks whether the user had visited the website in the past and can adapt their content to the user.

Teatr Narodowy uses cookies for the following purposes:
a) to adapt the content of the website to the preferences of a particular user and to optimize the use of the website, in particular, these files allow the identification of a website user's device and properly show the website specially adapted to their individual needs,
b) preparation of statistics that help to understand how users use the website, making it possible to improve their structure and content,
c) maintenance of the website user session (after logging in), so, for example, the user does not have to retype his login and password on every subpage, Teatr Narodowy declares that the cookies used by the Website do not make it possible to determine and store personal information about users.

Teatr Narodowy declares that the use of its Website, without changing the cookies settings, is equivalent to agreeing to save the files in the memory of the device with which the user uses to visit the Website. Each time a user connects to the Website via the same device that was previously used to visit the Website of Teatr Narodowy, the user can gain access to previously stored cookies.

Each user can change the way the cookies are stored or used by Teatr Narodowy. It is also possible to delete or block such files. In order to change the way of using cookies, block or delete them, appropriate changes in the settings of your web browser have to be made. Details on how to manage cookies should be available in the settings of the web browsers.

On its website, Teatr Narodowy uses the following cookies:
a) "required" cookies, allowing the use of services available on the website to the fullest extent,
b) cookies used to ensure safety, such as cookies to detect abuse of authentication within the website
c) cookies, allowing the collection of information concerning the way the Website is used, such as the time spent on a specific subpage or the number of visits
d) "functional" cookies making it possible to "remember" user-selected settings and customization of the user interface, for example, within the language or region of origin of the user, the font size, the appearance of the website, etc.
